[Your City, Your State] (July 31, 2023) – [Café Name] will join with nonprofit cafes across the country for the fifth annual National Everybody Eats Week from August 20th – August 26th, 2023. National Everybody Eats Week is a nationally coordinated campaign to help individuals understand the power they have to build community and ensure a table for everybody.

“Community Cafes have been building equitable communities for nearly 20 years,” says Julie Williams, Board President of One World Everybody Eats. “During the COVID-19 pandemic, our member cafes continued to meet the needs of the communities they serve. But now, it is clear our challenge is also deeper than just food.”

According to the World Health Organization, the COVID-19 pandemic triggered a 25% increase in anxiety and depression worldwide. The organization sites social isolation, reduced ability to work, limited support from loved ones, and a lack of engagement in community as stress factors contributing to the sharp increase.

[Café Name] is working to open a nonprofit pay-what-you-can café right here in [Your City]. With help from One World Everybody Eats, a national organization of community cafes, [Café Name] intends to open a café where you can find food and connection. It will be a community led dignified dining experience where everyone is welcome, and guests can choose what they want to eat from a selection of healthy nutritious options.

About National Everybody Eats Week

National Everybody Eats Week started in 2019 by One World Everybody Eats, a nonprofit organization empowering communities to ensure food security for all through its nonprofit restaurant model. The organization supports community cafes around the world in building community and creating a local solution to the global issue of hunger. To date, the nationally coordinated campaign has motivated over 1,000,000 to ensure a table for everybody. Find out more at www.oneworldeverybodyeats.org.
